FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NORTH CYPRESS MEDICAL CENTER RECEIVES NATIONAL RECOGNITION

Cypress, TX, 10/6/10- North Cypress Medical Center's Cardiac Rehabilitation Center has been nationally recognized by the AACVPR (American Association of Cardiovascular and Pulmonary Rehabilitation) as an accredited Cardiac and Pulmonary Rehabilitation Center. This certification recognizes the program's high standards of care, making the North Cypress Cardiac Rehabilitation Center the only certified program in the area.

The AACVPR is the leading national governing body for Cardiac Rehabilitation programs and focuses on improving the care and quality of life for patients with heart and lung disease. The AACVPR certification process is the only peer-reviewed accreditation process designed to review individual facilities for adherence to standards and guidelines developed and published by the AACVPR and other professional societies.

Cardiac Rehabilitation is a multi-disciplinary medically supervised program that provides individualized exercise, education and support for lifestyle modification for people with heart problems. Individuals who are recovering from a heart attack, heart surgery, angioplasty, and those with stable angina should be part of a cardiac rehabilitation program. The North Cypress Cardiac Rehabilitation Center's goal is to gradually help patients regain and maintain a healthy cardiovascular system and improve quality of life.

The North Cypress Cardiac Rehabilitation Center is located in Suite 660, Professional Building I, of the North Cypress Medical Center at Huffmeister and Highway 290. For more information, please contact the Cardiac Rehab Department at 832-912-3634 or via email: cardiac.rehab@ncmc-hospital.com.

North Cypress Medical Center is a 175-bed physician owned acute care hospital located in Cypress (northwest Houston area), Texas.
